Designed for the Discerning - Panoramic Views

Designed for the discerning property owner, this unique home is set on a very private acre of land with commanding views of the Mitchell River Flats, farmland and mountains. Significant planning was undertaken to create the choice of architectural style, construction and the twin zoned floor plan. The striking home has a passive solar design incorporating excellent insulation featuring a reverse brick veneer construction with Expresswall panel and Zinalume exterior, double glazed windows, a north facing aspect and burnished concrete floors that are not only attractive but act as a thermal mass to retain warmth during winter. Your energy bills will be further reduced with a 4.5kw solar system.

The main zone includes an open plan living area with a centrepiece window to frame the well manicured garden, water feature and views beyond. For the chef at heart, the kitchen includes extensive storage, a stainless steel benchtop, glass splashback and electric oven with gas cooktop. There is also an island bench with stone top and waterfall ends. For additional storage and prep area there is a butler's pantry/laundry, again with a stainless steel benchtop. Enjoy alfresco dining in the north facing courtyard with vines to shade the summer sun. There is a master bedroom with an ensuite and BIRs. It has its own access to the south courtyard and a study is located adjacent which is a great work from home space with windows that capture the calming views.

The second zone has served the current owners as 3 studios that if required could easily be converted to more bedrooms, with the large
